Effort to Include All Industries Defeated by Action at A. F. of L. Convention.

Brady Resolution Adopted, Urges Congress to Give Recognition to Irish Republic.

DENVER, June 22.—Reaffirming its stand for Government ownership, with democratic operation of the railroads, convention of the American Federation of Labor to-day directed its execu-tive council to draw up proposed legis-iation designed to give the workers, through Government regulation, equal rights and privileges with capital in organized enterprises.

The convention sustained the action of the convention sustained the action of the resolutions committee in striking out of the resolution a phrase that would have put organized labor on record as declaring for Government control and democratic operation of "all industries organized under corporate grants and publicates"

privileges."

In the debate on the railroad question, answering criticisms of Fred Hewitt, chairman of the machinists delegation, that the executive council had not taken desired action to bring about Government ownership, President Gompers said;

"We have gone as far as it was the

We have gone as far as it was the desire of the raffroad representatives. Before coming to this convention I had a conference with Mr. Jewell, head of the railway employees' department of the federation, and he expressed the opinion that no programme of railroad legislation should be advanced at this time."

minority report it it provides for dovernment ownership of sea and waterway transportation.

Daniel Tobin, president of the Teamsters Union, said that his delegation could not vote for a proposal that provided for "Government control of the teaming and trucking industry."

Max Hayes of Cincinnati of the Tpyographical Union supported the minority report and urged Government control of all industries. He challenged critics of the resolution to openly charge that it was a "socialistic or red" declaration.

"I don't see any reason." said Frank Morriscn, "why labor should hesitate to declare itself for legislation that provides for enactment of agreements that would enable labor to meet the employers face to face on the same basis of equality. Why hesitate to enact legislation that will enable the workers to have some volce in regard to fixing wages and working conditions."

Speaking on railroad conditions, Mr. Morrison declared that the public had no right to say that the workers should not strike "in the face of unsatisfactory conditions."

"I am told that the public will not strike "in the face of unsatisfactory conditions."

"I am told that the public will not sland for a strike of railroad employees," he said. "The railroad companies haw entered into an agreement to furnish service. Now, why does not the public demand this service from the railroads, even if they have to pay more wages and give shorter hours?"

John Frey of Cincinnati, sceretary of the resolutions committee, urged the majority recommendation pledging aid to the railroad workers in their fight for Government ownership. He opposed declarations in the minority report that charged that the Government land departed from the "fundamental principles of democracy."

parted from the "fundamental principles of democracy."

Matthew Woll of Chicago, president of the photoengravers, sought to settle the question by referring it back to committee with instructions to separate the railroad proposition from the general declaration in favor of Government ownership of all basic industries.

John L. Lewis, candidate for the presidency, in an address on the convention floor, declared for the "inherent right of labor and the public to regulate the affairs of industry in the interest of all the people."

the people."

The Irish resolution adopted by the convention was drafted by a committee of Irish sympathizers headed by Peter Brady of New York, who opposed the boycett. This declaration reaffirmed the action of the Montreal convention in supporting the Irish people in their struggle for freedom and for recognition of the Irish Republic, and instructed federa-porting the Irish people in their struggle for freedom and for recognition of the Irish Republic, and instructed federation executive officers and asked all mational and international unions to surge the Administration officials at Washington and all members of Congress to immediately pass legislation recognizing the Irish Republic.

It also provided for the sending of a special communication to the British Premier, his Cabinet and members of Parliament protesting against "the campaign of violence" in Irisland."

After disposal of the railroad resolution the convention worked fast, disposing of many resolutions and recommendations until the question of unemployment insurance was reached. A spirited debate preceded action of the convention in adopting the committee's report. The insurance provision was eliminated leaving only a recommendation that every State organization urge immediate undertaking of contemplated public works to relieve unemployment.

Condemnation of the Hearst newspapers for publication of an account of a Chicago labor meeting which the convention termed "an example of the propaganda in which the Hearst newspapers are engaged and which has for its purpose the destruction of organized labor," was voted.

Other actions of the convention included: Adoption of the executive council's report asking the United States to take a leading step for worldwide disarmament by agreement and commendation of Secretary Denby of the Navy Department for his prompt action on Admiral Sims's speech in London.

Samuel Gompers took an active part in debate to-day, and in doing so replied to what he said were criticisms of him because of his foreign birth.

"There has been some criticism of myself because I am not a sative of this country," he said. "It is a fact that I was born in England. I came to the United States when I was 12 years old."

The trolley men employed by the Public Service Railway Company of New Jersey voted yesterday to accept a reduction of 10 per cent. in their pay and to sign a two year agreement. The agreement was signed in Newark. It was learned that the vote in favor of the wage cut was overwhelming.

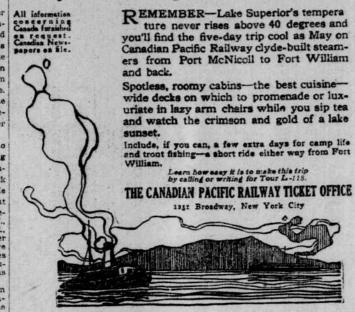

William Wetner, president of surface car men's unions in New Jersey, announced in Newark that the vote was at least two to one in favor of the cut and that the West Hoboken and New Brunswick locals were the only ones holding out against it.

The new scale will give the men forty-six, forty-eight, fifty or fifty-five cents an hour, according to the kind of work tray do and their time in the company's service. The decrease amounts to about five cents an hour.
